LEADERSHIP ACADEMY

YOLI Leadership Academy

Mentorship, leadership practice, and a plan for what comes next. Free for Rio Grande Valley families.

Who it is for

- Ages: [CONFIRM age range]
- Grades: [CONFIRM grades]
- Students in the Rio Grande Valley. No perfect grades required. [CONFIRM eligibility]
- Length: [CONFIRM length]. Meets [CONFIRM cadence].
- Cost to families: free. Scholarships cover participation.

How it works

1. Apply. A short form. A real person calls within three days.
2. Match with a mentor. A trained adult whose path fits the student's goals.
3. Lead a project. Plan and run a community service project, then present it in public.
4. Graduate with a plan. One page: the path, the deadlines, the money, and the people who will help.

What students do each month

- Weekly contact with their mentor, focused on the student's own goals.
- A leadership session with the full class. [CONFIRM cadence and location]
- Work on the service project, from picking the problem to delivering the result.
- Practice speaking in front of a group.
- One concrete step on the written plan: a campus visit, a financial aid deadline, or a conversation with someone in the field.

What parents can expect

- Every mentor passes a background check and training before meeting a student. [CONFIRM policy]
- Activities in supervised settings. [CONFIRM locations]
- Updates from us [CONFIRM cadence], and a real person to call.

What students leave with

- A mentor who knows them.
- A service project they led.
- Experience speaking in public.
- A written plan for college, a trade, the military, or a business.
- Adults who can write their recommendation letters.
